Biographical Note

Ernest Ropiequet Hilgard was born July 25, 1904 in Bellville, Illinois. After graduating from High School at the age of 16, Hilgard attended the University of Illinois earning a Baccalaureate degree in chemical engineering in 1924. Hilgard worked a year for the YMCA after graduation and in 1925 attended Yale Divinity School for a year before coming to the decision to pursue psychology. Hilgard received his PhD. from Yale University in 1930 where he worked as an Instructor from 1929 to 1932. In 1933 He accepted a position as Assistant Professor at Stanford University, he remained there for the rest of his career. Hilgard became a professor in 1938, and it was during this time that He wrote his first book with Donald G Marquis Conditioning and Learning (1940). He was promoted to the Head of the Psychology department in 1942 and was Dean of the Graduate Division from 1951-1955. Hilgard's second book Theories of Learning was published in 1948, while the Head of the Psychology department. His beginning textbook Introduction to Psychology was published in 1953. After Hilgard's term as Dean of the Graduate Division he returned as a professor teaching students and exploring his own research. Hilgard began to pursue an interest in Hypnosis and established the Laboratory of Hypnosis Research. In collaboration with A.M. Weitzenhoffer he developed the Stanford Hypnotic Susceptibility Scales, a standard for hypnotic susceptibility assessments. Hilgard published Hypnotic Susceptibility in 1965. He shared his interest in the history of psychology with the books American Psychology in Historical Perspective: Addresses of the Presidents of the American Psychological Association, 1882-1977 (1978) and Psychology in America, A Historical Survey (Hilgard, 1987). Hilgard served on many Committees and commissions throughout his career, in 1943 he was part of the committee that revised the American Psychological Association's by-laws toward a divisional structure. He also served as chairman of both the activating committees that oversaw the change. Later [1949] he would serve as president of the American Psychological Association. In 1946 he was part of the U.S. Education Mission to Japan, from 1953 through 1955 he served on a National Advisory Mental Health Council, and from 1968-1972 Hilgard was a member of the President's Medal of Science Committee. Hilgard served as a chairman of the Behavioral and Social Sciences Survey Committee from 1961-1970, as a member of the Board of Curators of Stephen's College from 1961-1970 and He served as President of the Board of Trustees of Neuva Day School in a local community from 1965-1975.

Honors that Hilgard have received include being awarded the Warren Medal of the American Psychological Association in 1940. He was elected to the National Academy of Sciences in 1948, and in 1958 he was elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. Hilgard received an honorary Phd. from Kenyon College in 1964 and in 1967 he received the American Psychological Association's Award for Distinguished Scientific Contributions.

He died of cardiopulmonary arrest October 22, 2001 in Palo Alto, California.

Scope and Content

The papers of Ernest R. Hilgard document his career as a teacher, administrator and researcher. Of note in the Biographical file is a copy of his memoirs. This was written for his extended family in mind and was completed 1994-1995.

A large portion of this collection is Hilgard's correspondence. This series of the collection is divided by decade from 1928 through 1979. Within each decade correspondence is filed alphabetically under the subjects last name, and includes such notables as R.Yerkes, C.L. Hull, E.G. Boring, L.M. Terman, and D.G. Marquis in addition to organizations and institutions. Hilgard tended to staple or paperclip series of letters that dealt with the same subject matter together and where possible these "bundles" of letters have been maintained, the latest date is generally first in the "bundle".

There are some manuscripts included in this collection, most are copies of manuscripts submitted for publication or as presentations. A few have hand written notes on them regarding corrections, updates etc. The Manuscript series is organized chronologically. Reprints of Hilgard's manuscripts are at the end of the series.

Of note in the Professional Organizations, Committees, and Commissions series is Hilgard's material for the Behavioral and Social Sciences Committee, the Highway Safety committee of the National Research Council, Ford Foundation committees, International Society for Clinical and Experimental Hypnosis, National Academy of Education and the National Academy of Sciences. This series is organized alphabetically by the organization, committee or commission name, if the organizations material is more than one folder in length then the folders for that organization are organized chronologically.

Many of the conference folders include papers presented by Hilgard at the conference. The Conference series is organized chronologically by the year of the conference.

Of interest in the Subject Files series are Guggenheim Fellowship Application Forms from 1933, material about and by Josephine R. Hilgard, and 36 volumes (volume 5 is missing) of bound reprints of conditioning and related topics from 1934 through 1964.

Photographs from this collection have been removed to the AHAP's still image collection. Audio tapes have been removed to AHAP's audio collection, and Film has been removed to the Moving Image collection for preservation. Other Hilgard material can be located in boxes M94, M849, M1016, and M1231.
